

Dear Lord,

Please take this hatred from my heart! For I try and I try to forgive those who have done me wrong . . . to no avail. Surely this, unmastered, will be the death of my soul! For how can I ask, much less expect, anyone much less my Lord, to do anything much less something i myself am unable or willing to do?.. Hypocrite! For how can I be forgiven of my sins when I myself so stubbornly refuse to forgive?? So I ask you Lord, Please take this hatred from my heart, so that I may do the very thing I ask of you . . . and finally experience the inner peace I thus far can only imagine must accompany . . .

True Forgiveness!

In Jesus' name, Amen.
